"I am at liberty to levy on the prop-erty of the Southern railway for the $500 fine imposed by the commission for vio-lation of the demurrage laws promulgated by the commission at any time I see fit and no further action of the commission The secretary refused to say exactly at what time the levy will be made, but that it will be done there is no doubt. The railway had until 3 o'clock last Saturday afternoon in which to pay the fine, fall-ing to do which it is up to the secretary to make the levy and collect the amount.

MERIDEN, Conn., June 18 .- That An-ball eleven, who saved him Sunday from year-old daughter because she eloped and married Joseph K. Colmer. Schuester tracked the runaways to New Britain, and, meeting his daughter in front of her new home, demanded that she return home with him. She refused, and he drew a revolver and fired four times. As she fell Schuester fied. Curtin led the pursuers and threw Schuester by a low tackle, defending him from the men who tried to beat him until the police arrived. Before he could be headen fed Schuester held the right to his handcuffed Schuester held the pistol to his own head and fired, but only a scalp wound was inflicted. Mrs. Colmer is in the hos-pital in a serious condition, with a bullet
